Weather: The Aberdeenshire Hills will have occasional snow showers, some on the heavy side in the evening with a small risk of lightning, but some drier spells during the day. A few lighter showers will reach the Angus and north Perthshire hills but with some sunny or clear interludes. Southern Perthshire and the Ochils will be mainly dry, just the chance of a light snow shower in the early hours then the day looks dry with some good sunny spells.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 30% in north, 80% in south.

Low Cloud and visibility: Areas of low cloud to 600-800m in the north, lower patches near snow showers, especially Aberdeenshire with very poor visibility in cloud and in heavier snow showers, and any summit drifting. Generally good otherwise.
